

December 2014,

To whom it may concern,

Anna Haastrecht was responsible for a newspaper project at our school in 2014. We were very satisfied with what she did, and she did much more than she was asked for.

After consulting the teachers she made a plan for the project which she discussed with the teachers.

She taught various groups about journalism in the age group of 13-15.

Eventually they made their own newspapers.

Anna Haastrecht has an extensive knowledge of journalism and her presentation skills are impressive. Besides being enthusiastic and professional, she is capable of motivating people.
