

Amsterdam, January 2015

To whom this may concern,

Anna is a very spontaneous girl, who did unpaid work for the KidsRights Foundation from March until June 2014. Being a volunteer, she has dealt mainly with google advertising, re-drafting of website texts and managing our LinkedIn profile.

Anna contributed to a positive atmosphere at the office. She is an enthusiastic person with a lot of creative ideas, who prefers to be involved in everything. If you ask her anything she does it, even though it is a less fun job, and often she does it right away.
